Introduction and Historical Notes

have been traced by T. Maxwell Potts, of Cannonsburg, Pennsylvania, in his history of the "Potts Family." Of the Phipps, Mason, and Davis families there appears to be no record. Agnes (Shoemaker) Hallowell died without issue. Isaac, who married Hannah Roberts, of Philadelphia, settled as a farmer within the limits of Gwynedd Monthly Meeting, Philadelphia County. Their children's names, as given by Ellwood Michener, of Toughkenamon, Pennsylvania, were as follows:

Margaret, born 3 mo. 10, 1742; died 1788. (See will in Register of Wills office, Philadelphia.) Peter, born 4 mo. 12, 1744; married Hannah Norman. Elizabeth, born 4 mo. 22, 1748; married John Letchworth. Martha, born 7 mo. 14, 1750; married Jonathan Shoemaker. Daniel, born 12 mo. 9, 1752; married Phebe Walton. Isaac, born 10 mo. 29, 1754. James. Rachel, born 3 mo. 5, 1759. David, born 6 mo. 15, 1761. Mary and Hannah, twins, born 3 mo. 9, 1764. Thomas, born 3 mo. 22, 1766. Rebecca, born 4 mo. 22, 1769; married Isaac Cox, Philadelphia.

Many of the descendants of Peter Shoemaker, Jr., are living in Montgomery and Delaware Counties, but the writer has not attempted to trace them farther than was necessary to avoid confusion between the families of Peter, Jr., of Germantown, and George Shoemaker, of Cheltenham, as the lines of the latter only are traced in this book.

George Shoemaker¹

As the third family to arrive, I quote from a partial list of the families who arrived at Philadelphia between 1682 and 1687, published in the Pennsylvania Magazine, vol. viii. p. 329, copied from the original in the possession of the Historical Society, as follows:

"The Jeffries, Thomas Arnold m^r from London arrived 20 ¹/_{mo} 1686.

"Johannes Cassel a German his children Arnold, Peter, Elizabeth, Mary, Sarah.

"Sarah Shoemaker of the Palatinate Widdow, George 23 years old, Abraham 19, Barbary 20, Isaac 17, Susanna 13, Elizabeth 11, Benjamin 10, all her children."

While the law for registration was not closely observed, and many ships and passengers arrived of which no record can now be found, it is pleasing to find, among vessels reported between 1682 and 1687, the name of the "Jeffries," with the names of her passengers, and also the additional information giving the ages of the children, which was rarely done, but is of great value in this case. George, the husband of Sarah and father of the children, had died on the voyage, therefore they landed on the shore of the Delaware River without their head and protector to assist them in establishing their new home in a wilderness country. Sarah Shoemaker, widow, seems, however, to have been equal to the occasion, for soon after landing she selected and purchased a tract of land in Cheltenham township, then Philadelphia County (see page 19), where she settled with her children in 1686, and from there the descendants of George and Sarah will be traced in the pages following.

Richard Wall

As a direct ancestor of a numerous branch of the Shoemaker family of Cheltenham, through the marriage of his granddaughter, Sarah Wall, to George Shoemaker, 12 mo. 14, 1694, some facts may properly be introduced here concerning him.

He married Joane Wheel 8 mo. 1, 1658, at Gloucester Monthly Meeting of Friends, in England. (See records of Friends' Meeting, Devonshire House, London.)

On the 26th day of the 4th month, 1682, a monthly meeting held at the house of Edward Edwards, of Stoke Orchard, in the county of Gloucestershire, England, granted a certificate of removal for Richard Wall and family; this certificate was received, read, and accepted by the Philadelphia Monthly Meeting of Friends in the tenth month of 1682. (See minutes of Philadelphia Monthly Meeting.) The "family," so far as now known, consisted of Richard Wall the elder and his wife Joane, his son Richard Wall, Jr., and

Hester Leech died 8 mo. 11, 1726. Toby died 11 mo. 13, 1726. They were buried in one grave in the Trinity Oxford Church ground, where a stone marks their grave, bearing an inscription in words and form as follows:

Toby Leech	} Died {	{ 13 Nov. }	} 1726 {	Aged {	{ 74 }	} yea

Toby Leech's will, signed 4 mo. 7, 1724; probated 12 mo. 7, 1726, Philadelphia Register's office, is one of the longest and most specific of the many wills in the Register's books. Besides money and securities, he left to his sons several houses in Philadelphia and more than three thousand acres of land in Philadelphia County. His negroes, Ben, Cuffy, Betty, Cate, Cuggs, Busso, and Fillis, he left to his sons. He appointed his sons, Thomas and Isaac Leech, executors.

Reynier Tyson

ON the 11th of June, 1683 (Pennypacker's "Settlement of Germantown"), Penn conveyed to Govert Remke, Lenart Arets, and Jacob Isaacs Van Bebbber one thousand acres of land each, providing that a certain number of families should go to Pennsylvania within a specified time. Very soon thirteen men, with their families, comprising thirty-three persons, nearly all of whom were relatives, were ready to embark from Rotterdam for London. Through James Claypoole, a Quaker merchant in London, passage had been engaged for them and the money paid in advance.

The ship "Concord" sailed from England 7 mo. 24, 1683, and arrived in Philadelphia on 10 mo. 6, 1683. One member of this little band was Reynier Tyson, a young man, and believed to have been unmarried. With his companions he settled in Germantown, and later removed to Abington. While in Germantown, under the Penn charter, he was one of the Burgesses, 1692,

Introduction and Historical Notes

1693, 1694, 1696. He was one of the signers of the certificate, issued by the Quarterly Meeting of Philadelphia, addressed to the London Yearly Meeting, which Samuel Jennings bore with him to London, 1693, concerning the Keith controversy. In Abington he was a large landowner and an active business man.

In a memorial published in the "Friend," Vol. XXX., page 229, it is recorded that "Reynier Tyson was born in Germany in the year 1659. He was convinced of the truth whilst living there, and for his faithfulness thereto suffered persecution. He removed to Pennsylvania a few years after William Penn first obtained the Province, and settled himself within the limits of Abington Monthly Meeting, then called Dublin. He continued faithful to the manifestations of truth received, and grew in the esteem of his friends to a father in the church. In the year 1725 he was appointed an elder, and continued faithful in fulfilling the duties of the station until prevented by age and indisposition. His friends say he was innocent and inoffensive in life and conversation, and diligent in attending his religious meetings. He lived, beloved and honored, to a good old age, dying on the 27th of the seventh month, 1745, aged about eighty-six years." Besides the descendants of his grandson, Isaac Tyson, who married Esther Shoemaker in the year 1749, there are many persons named in this book who can trace their lines back to Reynier Tyson.

Shoemaker Burying-Ground

THIS graveyard, the final resting-place of many members of the family, lies on the south side of the present Cheltenham Avenue, in the early days called Graveyard Lane, about two hundred and fifty yards west of York Road. As already mentioned, six acres were bequeathed by Richard Wall the elder to Friends of Cheltenham Meeting, in 1697-98, for a burying-place, but the ground must have been used for burial purposes several years before that date, for both Philadelphia and Abington Monthly Meeting records show that Richard Wall, Jr., was buried in Cheltenham ground in the year 1689, and Abington Meeting books state that John Ashmead was buried there in 1688.

Shoemaker Family of Cheltenham

First Generation

GEORGE¹ and SARAH SHOEMAKER were married in Heidelberg, Germany, in 1662.* Sarah, widow of George, arrived in Philadelphia 1 mo. 20, 1686, as stated on page 9. Soon after landing she purchased two hundred acres of land in Cheltenham township, located and measured as follows. Extract from deed dated 11 mo. 29, 1686, Philadelphia Recorder's office, Deed Book E, 1, vol. v. p. 515: "For and in consideration of the sum of twenty pounds, lawful silver money of the said Province, paid by the said Sarah Shoemaker, of the said county and Province, widdow, to the said Patrick Robinson. He the said Patrick Robinson, hath given, granted, sold and confirmed to the said Sarah Shoemaker etc. etc. a certain piece of land in the said county, and in a certain tract of land, called Cheltenham Parish. Beginning at a stake near an oak saplin, thence four hundred and eighty Perches south west to a stake by a small black oak marked for a corner, thence sixty six and three quarter perches north west, to a stake upon a hill, near a swamp for another corner, thence four hundred and eighty Perches north east to a stake, about four perches to the northward of a large Poplar tree marked for a corner and thence sixty six and three quarter perches south east to the first mentioned place, containing Two Hundred acres of land bounded on the north east with the lands of Pennapecca Township—on the south west with vacant lands, and on the north west side with William Frampton's lands—and on the south east with the lands of Richard Wall." This land extended entirely across the township from Abington, called in the deed "Pennapecca," on the north, to Bristol township line on the south. More recent surveys show that the actual distance southwest and northeast is five hundred and thirty-six perches, and not four hundred and eighty perches, as named in the original survey. Sarah Shoemaker continued in possession of the land until 1708, when she conveyed one hundred and sixty acres to her son George. Extract from deed (Deed Book E, 5, vol. vii. p. 117, Philadelphia Recorder's office): "This indenture made the twenty eighth of the seventh month, in the seventh year of the reign of our Sovereign, Lady Ann, Queen of Great Britain, and in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and eight, between Sarah Shoemaker of Cheltenham in the county of Philadelphia, in the Province of Pennsylvania, widow, of the one part, and George Shoemaker of the same, yeoman, one of the sons of the said Sarah of the other part. Whereas . . . Witnesseth, that the said Sarah Shoemaker for and in consideration of the natural love and affection which she hath and beareth to and for the said George Shoemaker, and also of the care and maintenance of her, the said Sarah Shoemaker, already had and received of and from her said son, for and during the fifteen years last past before the date of these present, and for divers other good causes and considerations, her hereunto moving, hath given, granted and sold and confirmed, and by these present doth give, grant and confirm unto the said George Shoemaker 160 acres of my land in Cheltenham Township in the province of Pennsylvania."

Sarah Shoemaker and her children attended Cheltenham Meeting, and her name appears as a witness to several marriages, while four of her children were married in the meeting as members thereof.

As already stated, when Peter Shoemaker's family arrived and were named, "Sarah his cousin" appears among them; this Sarah was a daughter of George and Sarah, and her name has been placed in the family.

Second Generation

Children of George¹ and Sarah Shoemaker:

2. GEORGE², married (1), 12 mo. 14, 1694, Sarah Wall; (2) Christiana Brown.
3. SARAH², married, 11 mo. 18, 1688, Edward Eaton.
4. BARBARY².
5. ABRAHAM².
6. ISAAC², married, 9 mo. 26, 1694, Sarah Hendricks.
7. SUSANNA², married, 1 mo. 4, 1696, Isaac Price.
8. ELIZABETH².
9. BENJAMIN².

We have the dates of marriage, in Abington Meeting records, of George, Sarah, Isaac, and Susanna; of the other four children, Barbary, Abraham, Elizabeth, and Benjamin, there is no mention either in the minutes of the meeting or in family wills or deeds. It is therefore inferred that they died unmarried.

Third Generation

2. GEORGE SHOEMAKER² (George¹), son of George and Sarah Shoemaker, was born in Germany about 1663; died in Cheltenham township, Philadelphia County, Pennsylvania, in 1741. He married (1), 12 mo. 14,

Third Generation

1694, Sarah Wall, daughter of Richard, Jr., and Rachel Wall, at Abington Friends' Meeting, held at the house of Richard Wall the elder, in Cheltenham township; he married (2), about 1711, Christiana Brown. George Shoemaker was described in the early deeds as a "planter;" besides improving his mother's land, he purchased of Toby Leech one hundred acres. His wife, Sarah (Wall) Shoemaker, inherited nearly six hundred acres from her grandfather, Richard Wall the elder. In 1708 he acquired one hundred and sixty acres, a portion of his mother's tract, as before stated. His name appears among the patrons of Francis Daniel Pastorius's school.*

The marriage certificate of George Shoemaker and Sarah Wall, dated 12 mo. 14, 1694, has been preserved. (See picture.) Thomas H. Shoemaker in his "History of the Shoemaker Family," says, "The venerable old marriage certificate is still in existence, having been handed down in the family. Its last owner was Dr. William L. Shoemaker, of Georgetown, D. C. Recently he forwarded it to me to copy, photograph, and then deposit it in the Pennsylvania Historical Society. This has all been done, and any who are interested can there see it.

"The doctor, in writing, says, 'If you can photograph it or cause it to be photographed, pray do so, but handle it gently; it is old and weak, and stammers feebly an antiquated jargon, "according to the usage of the people of God called Quakers." Respect its wounds and bruises and awkward bandages, and when its likeness hath been taken, deposit it in my name in the Pennsylvania Historical Society's archives.'"

There are twenty-nine names of those who were present, who signed as witnesses; seven of these are written on the face of the certificate and twenty-two on the back; among the first appears the name of Sara Schumaker, mother of the groom and widow of the first George, also the names of Samuel Richardson, Toby Leech, and Richard Townsend, all of which were prominent men in their day.

In 1711 the inhabitants of the county, feeling the need of additional roads, petitioned the Council to that effect, whereupon the following action was taken. Extracts from the minutes of the Provincial Council: "At a Council held at Phila. 27th day of January 1710-11. Present ye Hon'ble Chas. Gookin Esq. Ltt. Govr, and five members. A Peticon of some of the inhabitants and freeholders of the townships of Buckingham and Solebury, was read, praying that a convenient road may be laid out and established from the upper part of Phila. according to the courses and manner following, viz:

"To begin at the side of the River Delaware opposite to John Reading's landing, from thence by the most direct and convenient course to Buckingham meeting house, and from thence the most direct and convenient course through the lands of Thomas Watson, and from thence ye most direct and convenient course to Stephen Jenkins on the west side of his house, and from thence the most direct and convenient course by the house late of Richard Wall, now in possession of George Shoemaker and so forward by the most direct and convenient courses to Phila.

“The Road promising to be of great use and service to the Public, it is therefore granted, and ordered that the following twelve persons . . . or any six of them do lay out the said Road, and make their return within six months.”

“At a council held in Phila. the 3rd of Nov. 1711.

“Present the Hon. Chas. Gookin Esq. Lt. Gov. and nine members.

“A report of the commission, appointed 27th of January last for the laying out of a road from the Delaware River, opposite John Reading’s landing to Phila. having been objected against and a Peticon exhibited that there might be a review granted. It is therefore ordered that some six of the Persons first appointed to lay out the said Road together with Samuel Richardson, Thomas Godfrey, George Shoemaker, Henry Bennett, Isaac Knight, Peter Chamberlain, Daniel Thomas and Toby Leech, make such alterations therein as may be thought more convenient, and make return into the Secry’s office ye 24th inst. in order to be confirmed.”

“At a Council held in Phila. the 11th of January 1711-12.

“The Hon. Chas. Gookin, Esq. Lt. Gov. and nine members present.

“The Road from the River Delaware opposite John Reading’s landing being reviewed and returned pursuant to an order of the Board of Nov. the 3rd last. We whose names are hereunder written, do certify that we have reviewed and made such alterations as seemeth to us most convenient of a certain Road and etc. [then follows the bearings and distances as per the surveyor’s report] from the Delaware River, into the end of the Fourth Street from Delaware to Phila.

“Witness our hands and seals this 24th of November 1711.

TOBY LEECH	HENRY BENNETT	STEPHEN JENKINS
PETER CHAMBERLAIN	ISAAC KNIGHT	NATHANIEL BYE
GEORGE SHOEMAKER	JOHN SCARBOROUGH	MATHEW HUGHES
DANIEL THOMAS	THOMAS WATSON	GRIFFITH MILES.”

A few months later objections were again filed to the location of the Road between Norris Lane and Front Street, whereupon another commission was appointed to review, etc., who reported that they “had changed the line of said York Road, giving the bearings, distances and etc. as agreed upon.

Third Generation

In witness we have hereunto sett our hands and seals the seventh day of January, in the eleventh year of Queen Ann. Anno Domini 1712." * Thus, after many changes and the work of three juries, the line of the York Road was established from Philadelphia to the Delaware River, at John Reading's landing, in Solebury township, which at a later period was known as Howell's Ferry, but now as Centre Bridge, four miles above New Hope. It will be noticed that in all the alterations and new surveys which were made, the line of the road was never changed from the front of George Shoemaker's house, as proposed in the first petition.

The plate opposite shows a sketch of the "Old York Road" from Graveyard Lane (now Cheltenham Avenue) to Abington Meeting Road, a distance of about one mile, as located by the Commission in 1711. In 1805 a charter was issued to the Cheltenham and Willow Grove Turnpike Company, said turnpike to be constructed on the line of the Old York Road, to be sixty feet in width, but not to destroy or injure any buildings already erected along the line of said road. Robert Brook, civil engineer, was engaged, in 1805, to locate the line; in 1810 he reported that he had completed his work and set all the stakes, and delivered a full set of drawings, showing distances and elevations above the Delaware River from Rising Sun village to Willow Grove.

J. W. Ridpath, of Jenkintown, Pennsylvania, civil engineer and secretary of the Turnpike Company, has kindly furnished me blue prints of above drawings, showing the road as it ran through Shoemakertown in 1805.

Besides managing his farm of nearly one thousand acres, George Shoemaker was also a tanner, having his yards on the east side of the York Road south of Tacony Creek. He died intestate; letters were granted by Peter Evans, Register General, 5 mo. 7, 1740, to his sons Abraham and Isaac; his widow, Christiana, having renounced.† The appraisement amounted to £882 9s. 1d. The live stock consisted of eleven cows, ten horses, nine shoats and pigs, and forty-one sheep; besides hay and grain and farming implements, the inventory also specifies, "many tanned, curried and raw calf skins, hides curried, raw hides, and hides in tan pit and lime pit, also 4 stacks of bark in tan yard." His widow, Christiana (Brown) Shoemaker, died 6 mo. 8, 1752; her will was dated 11th day of September, 1747, as "of Cheltenham Township, County of Phila., widdow." She makes a special bequest to her daughter Mary Livezey and her son Samuel Shoemaker, and then directs "that the residue of my estate shall be equally divided among my other five children,—viz., Catherine Thompson, Sarah Williams, Arnold Shoemaker,

"They were exemplary members of the Society of Friends, and, having abundant means, provided for destitute orphans and others in needy circumstances. Samuel was overseer, treasurer, and an Elder of Horsham Monthly Meeting for many years." By his will, probated 4 mo. 2, 1818,‡ he left a large estate to his nephews and nieces, and a bequest "for the use, and for repairing, the Grave Yard in Cheltenham Township called the Shoemaker Grave Yard." It will be noticed, as an unusual occurrence, that the lives of George Shoemaker² and his son Samuel³, above named, covered a period of one hundred and fifty-five years; the father was born in 1663, and his son Samuel died in 1818, in his ninety-fourth year.

3. SARAH SHOEMAKER² (George¹), daughter of George and Sarah Shoemaker, was born in Germany about 1665; died in 1716 in Cheltenham township, Philadelphia County, Pennsylvania; married, at Abington Friends' Meeting, in Cheltenham, 11 mo. 18, 1688, Edward Eaton, widower, of Abington, who died in 1709, and was buried at Oxford.

as a settler in New York, then New Amsterdam, as early as 1657, and who married Susanna Cresson, daughter of Pierre Cresson and Rachel Cloos, his wife, 9 mo. 1, 1658, at the Dutch Reformed Church.*

Elizabeth (Shoemaker) Delaplain died early, leaving two children:

68. NEHEMIAH DELAPLAIN⁴, married Mary Marshall.

69. SARAH DELAPLAIN⁴, married Joseph Ferree, son of Andrew Ferree and Mary Reed, of Strasburg, Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, and grandson of Madame Mary Ferree, the French Huguenot, who settled in the Pequea Valley, Lancaster County, in 1712. Joseph Ferree was living in Germantown 1770-1795; he was Justice of the Peace, and was United States store-keeper for military supplies. On the 31st of July, 1776, the Council of Safety "desired Joseph Ferree to deliver to John Mitchell, Commissioner for victualling the Navy, twenty five bushels of salt, out of the store at Germantown." On the 1st of August, 1776, an order was issued for more salt, and to deliver to Henry Huber "one ton of saltpeter." On the 8th of July it was resolved that Dr. Charles Bensel, Joseph Ferree, and Leonard Stoneburner "be appointed to collect all the leaden window-weights, clock-weights, and other lead in Germantown and its neighborhood, for which the liberal price of six pence per pound will be allowed, and they are authorized to draw on this Board for the same."† Joseph and Sarah Ferree appear to have had but one child, Daniel, who died young.

16. CATHARINE SHOEMAKER³ (George², George¹), daughter of George Shoemaker and Christiana Brown, his second wife, was born in Cheltenham township, Philadelphia County, in 1712; died 6 mo. 15, 1786; married, at Abington Meeting, 3 mo. 15, 1745, William Thompson, farmer of Cheltenham, who died 3 mo. 23, 1781, and was buried on the 25th, in the Cheltenham graveyard, where his wife Catharine was afterwards interred, 6 mo. 17, 1786.

21, 1736; she was a daughter of Aret Klincken, from Dalem in Holland, who settled in Germantown in 1687.

In "Merion in the Welsh Tract," by Thomas A. Glenn, published 1896, page 65, it is stated that "William John (alias Jones) died either on ship-board, or directly after his arrival from Merioneth." His non-cupative will (Register's office, Book A, p. 34) was probated first day of first month, 1685, at Philadelphia, he being late of Merionethshire, Wales. He mentions his son John Williams and daughters Alice, Kathrine, and Gwen Williams; he also refers to his wife Ann Reynolds, Hugh Roberts, and John Roberts, executors. The following is from Deed Book C, 1, Philadelphia: "Williams John, Bettws. yeoman, who take 156¼ acres of Welsh Tract," which was, some years later, 10 mo. 13, 1690, surveyed and allotted to the members of the syndicate, or heirs of such as were deceased. John Williams, above named, certainly got a portion of this Welsh Tract. In Exemplification record, No. 7, page 33 (10 mo. 13, 1690) his name appears as one of the company in the Welsh Tract; in Deed Book E, vol. v., page 298, "John Williams of Merion in Welsh Tract, yeoman, to Cadwallader Morgan for 76½ acres, consideration £50. dated 4 mo. 18, 1694." Again, in Deed Book E, 3, vol. v., page 70, dated 6 mo. 13, 1697, there appears, "John Williams of the townships of Merion in Welsh Tract to Edward Price for 78 acres in Goshen, within the Welsh Tract: consideration £3.5.8." * "12 mo. 25, 1711, John Williams produced a certificate from Radnor Friends' Meeting being received from thence to Germantown." † "6 mo. 29, 1715, a certificate was granted John Williams in order to remove to Merion." ‡ "2 mo. 27, 1724, John Williams lately removed from Radnor produced a certificate for him and his family, which was read and accepted." §

John Williams purchased, in 1716, one hundred and thirty-three acres of land in Cheltenham township, and in 1724 he made a second purchase of ninety-three acres. It is believed that the lands he held in Bristol township were part of the Klincken Tract, coming to his wife Ellen, daughter of Aret Klincken. The marriage certificate of John Williams and Ellen Klincken is now in possession of Charles Trump, No. 3826.
