Book No. 1

How Matlack came in the ship (Kent) Gregory Marlow Mass the number of passengers in this ship was 230, mostly of the people called Quakers; and some of them had good estates in England.

They landed, the 16 day of 6 mo. 1677 at Chester and also about Rock Creek on Delaware River, where the Swedes had some scattered habitations, but insufficient to receive or accommodate them. It was the second ship which arrived in West Jersey with passengers. After they arrived the commissioners viz, Thomas Allin, Daniel Hills, John Kinsey, Joseph Helmsley, Robert Stacy, Benjamin Scott, Richard Guy & Thomas Foulke proceeded up the river to the place where Burlington was afterwards built, then called Lehygo's Island from an Indian sachem who lived there. Here they treated with the Indians and entered on the regulation of their settlements. How Matlack being the first man of the company that put his foot upon the Island, and afterwards helped Thomas Allin build two of the first houses there being a carpenter about 30 years of age and served Thomas Allin four years. 	They have one son Richard, born in — 1831
	28] [Blank]
	29] Three Brothers came from Europe in the year — and landed in New Hampshire perhaps: their names Moses, John & Jonathan Sleeper. (or Strooper in Dutch) Moses Sleeper we think died without issue — John Sleeper (the next brother in course married — and settled in N. Hampshire: we know that John had one daughter and two sons, named Moses and John; we know these brothers were silk weavers. Moses Sleeper married & left one son whom he named Moses now, 1829, living in Hallowell a principal Town on Kennebec River in the state of Maine (1829). John Sleeper married had 11 sons & 2 daughters so that it appears those 11 sons all lived to marry & have a numerous race of the name of Sleeper in N. Hampshire aforesaid.

Jonathan Sleeper the next brother in course (settled on a farm near where Mt. Holly now is, one Shields we suppose at present times thereon) married — & had 2 sons & 1 daughter she married to Jonathan Atkinson. John & Jonathan the 3 sons named: we now proceed to John Sleeper (last mentioned
